HARD ON CHILDREN.

WHEN TEACHER HAS COFFEE HABIT.

"Best is best, and best will live." When a person feels this way about Postum Food Coffee they are glad to give testimony for the benefit of others.

Miss Evelyn Purvis of Free Run, Miss., says: "I have been a coffee drinker since my childhood, and the last few years it has injured me seriously. One cup of coffee taken at breakfast would cause me to become so nervous that I could scarcely go through with the day's duties, and this nervousness was often accompanied by deep depression of spirits and heart palpitation."

"I am a teacher by profession, and when under the influence of coffee have to struggle against crossness when in the school room. When talking this over with my physician, Dr. Johnson of Eden, Miss., he suggested that I try Postum Coffee, so I purchased a package and made it carefully according to directions; found it excellent of flavor, and nourishing. In a short time I noticed, very gratifying effects; my nervousness disappeared, I was not irritated by my pupils, life seemed full of sunshine, and my heart troubled me no longer. I attribute my change in health and spirits to Postum alone."

It is Not Yet Certain Who Will Control the L. & N.

The Latest Theory of What Will Be Done With It.

New York, Sept. 26—The ultimate disposition of the Louisville and Nashville control is still a matter of conjecture, as well as of widespread interest in Wall street. J. P. Morgan and Co., it is asserted, hold an option on a sufficient amount of Louisville and Nashville stock to give them permanent control. This option expires October 1, and Wall street is beginning to wonder whether Morgan will exercise his option or whether control of the property will revert to John W. Gates and his friends.

The prevailing opinion is that Mr. Morgan will retain his hold on the Louisville and Nashville system in the interest of the Southern railway, whose principal competitor it is. The project of a general combination of Southern railroads, designed to preserve harmony, restrict the building of new lines and to maintain uniformity of rates has not been abandoned, but it is held in abeyance pending a federal court decision as to the validity of the Northern Securities company. As soon as the legal status of the last named corporation is established the much talked of Southern railroad plan will undoubtedly assume definite shape.

Some of Mr. Gates' friends have intimated lately that control of the Louisville and Nashville would remain in his hands, and that this road would form the main portion of a great trunk line running north and south and connecting the lake ports with all of the shipping points on the Gulf of Mexico. KOREAN EMPEROR'S DEATH

Washington, Sept. 26—The rumored death of the emperor of Korea failed to find confirmation in any official quarter here. The emperor was 50 years of age on September 8, and assumed the throne on October 12, 1897.
